In the Classroom

Literacy– This week we will review our reading strategies. We will also write about what we are thankful for and make Thanksgiving placemats. During phonics we will continue learning about the bonus letters f, l, and s. We will also learn the glued sound "all."

Writing– We will continue learning about expressing our opinion. We will be starting our final copies of our writing this week.

Math– We will continue talking about place value and representing two-digit numbers. We will also be making a turkey number splash.

Science– We will bring home our completed mobiles. We will begin talking about spinning objects next week after break.
